Unit 2: Accessing healthcare: teacher's notes

This unit involves learning vocabulary for the different healthcare services ESOL learners can access in prison, filling in an application for healthcare appointments and reading notices relating to healthcare services found in and around the nurse's room or medical unit.

Time: Approximately 90 minutes.

Aims

For all learners:

- To provide opportunity for peer teaching of useful vocabulary for different healthcare services.
- To practise filling in an application form for healthcare appointments with personal details.
- To read and understand specific information found in a range of healthcare notices.

For Pre-entry/ beginner:

- To revise/ introduce the words doctor, nurse and dentist.
- To practise reading and handwriting of these words.
- To provide opportunity to fill in a simplified application form (app).
- To check and improve learners' ability to read numbers, times and the words morning, afternoon and evening in a timetable.

For Entry 1, Entry 2 and Entry 3 (differentiated)

- To introduce a selection of words for healthcare professionals and services.
- To check learners understand words commonly used on forms.
- To provide opportunity to fill in an app. for healthcare appointments.
- To practise reading notices found in medical units or nurse's rooms.

Optional grammar focus

- To present and practise verb patterns (can for Pre-entry/beginner and Entry 1 and can, want to, need to, would like to and keep for Entry 2 and 3).

Objectives

All learners will be able to:

- recognise and understand words for healthcare services (appropriate to level)
- write personal information on an app. for healthcare appointments
- show understanding of notices (appropriate to level)

Some learners (optional) will be able to:

- choose the correct verb pattern to make sentences for requesting healthcare / talking about health needs or concerns (optional).

Preparation

You will need:

For everyone

Resource 1 (teacher's resources): cut up along dotted lines and shuffled, one per pair of learners. NB: Pre-entry / beginner and Entry 1 need columns 1 and 2 only, Entry 2 and 3 need all three columns

Resource 3 (teacher's resources): cut up along dotted lines and shuffled, one per pair of learners

Resource 4 (teacher's resources): one copy only, in colour if possible. Stick on classroom walls prior to lesson.

Blank envelopes (optional)

For your Pre-entry/beginner learners

Resource 2 (teacher's resources): one set per Pre-entry/beginner learner, cut up and shuffled

Handout learner worksheets 1a, 2a (optional), 3a and 4a: one of each per learner
Gluesticks (if possible) – one per learner

For your Entry 1 learners

Activity sheets 1a, 2a (optional), 3b and 4b: one of each per learner

For your Entry 2 learners

Activity sheets 1c, 2b (optional), 3b and 4b: one of each per learner

For your Entry 3 learners

Activity sheets 1c, 2b (optional), 3b and 4c: one of each per learner

For your use

A pale-coloured felt-tip (if you have Pre-entry/beginner learners)

Procedure

Lead in

Draw a picture of a doctor on the whiteboard / flipchart (or show the picture on a projector or A3 copy). Learners shout out as they guess what it is. Repeat with dentist and optician. If you have completed unit 1 'My body', you could continue with body parts.

Activity 1 – Vocabulary activities (and optional grammar focus)

- Elicit the words doctor, nurse and dentist and have the learners tell you what they do. You could ask them if they know the names of the prison doctors and dentist or the nurse for their wing.
- Explain you are going to look at words for different people who can help you with your health problems. Pre-teach / check understanding of the words 'person', 'team' and 'clinic'.
- Set learners on matching the cards you have cut up from resource 1. They should work on this in pairs. For differentiation, Entry 1 could match the words (column 1) and pictures (column 2) while Entry 2 and 3 match all three columns. This is an opportunity for peer teaching, so let learners get on with the activity, then check as a whole class at the end.
- Meanwhile, check the Pre-entry/beginner learners know the words doctor, nurse and dentist. Drill the words and perhaps a phrase, for example 'I need to see the ...' You could give them the picture and word cards for these three words from resource 1 and have them match. Go through the answers with Entry 1, 2 and 3 as a whole class. Drill any new words.
- Demonstrate the task for activity sheet 1b or c. Give Entry 1 learners activity sheet 1b. They must read and draw a line to match the speech bubble to the healthcare service. Give Entry 2 and 3 activity sheet 1c. They must write in the words. As an option, weaker learners could look at the spellings on the cards of resource 1 if they need to. Go through the answers as a whole class, or give learners the answer sheet to check themselves.
- Demonstrate activity sheet 1a to the Pre-entry/beginner learners. First, they match the word to the picture by drawing a line. Second, they match the word in capitals (resource 2) and place or glue next to the arrow in the box. Third, they practise their handwriting by tracing over the word written in grey. Finally, they copy the words underneath.

Activity 2 Follow up / extension activities

- Use the vocabulary to initiate discussion. Possible questions you could ask are;
Do you know which healthcare services you have in (name of prison)?
Is it easy to make an appointment?
Have you ever used the dentist / podiatrist / optician? What was it like?
- If you would like to focus on a grammar point, there is an opportunity to look at verb patterns here. Use activity sheet 2a (for Pre-entry/beginner and Entry 1) to practise Can you... And revisit phrases for describing symptoms, and activity sheet 2b (with Entry 2 and 3) to practise can / want to / need to / would like to / keep.
- Activity sheet 2b has examples of and, but and because, which could be used to lead into some work on conjunctions.
- You could also provide blank cards for more advanced learners to name other health professionals and what they do.

Activity 3 Writing – Filling in an app for healthcare appointments

- Ask learners how they get an appointment with a dentist, doctor, etc. Make sure learners know the prison short form 'app' means application form and its purpose. Ask what information you have to give on an application form for an appointment.
- Elicit some ideas then give out a copy of Activity sheet 3b, one between two, for learners to check if they had the right ideas. Explain that a learner, Ismat, has a problem and has to fill in an app.
- Give out resource 3, cut up and shuffled, to Entry 1, 2 and 3 learners and ask learners to place the words / numbers in the right place.
- Meanwhile, work with your Pre-entry/beginner learners. Give each one a copy of Activity sheet 3a. Write in their information in the first form in pale-coloured felt-tip and tick one of the boxes. Ask them to read the word / numbers aloud, then have them trace over the top in pen or pencil. When they've finished, they should copy the information onto the second form.
- Check Entry level learners have completed Activity sheet 3b correctly. Elicit the meaning of some of the trickier vocabulary, e.g. confidential, brief details, seal. Give out more copies so each learner has one, then ask them to fill it in for themselves. Ask them to imagine a health problem, or give them a scenario.
- When they have finished, learners could check in pairs, put the app in an envelope, write CONFIDENTIAL on the front, then 'deliver' it to you for marking.

Follow-up / alternative activities

- If your learners have problems with capital letters, you could prepare a copy of activity sheet 3b - or display on the whiteboard / flipchart – with capital letter mistakes and ask them to correct it.
- This is an ideal opportunity to practise using real texts from your learners' prison. Collect a set of actual healthcare application forms. Look at any differences with the example in activity sheet 3b, then ask the learners to complete this form.

Activity 4 Reading activities – Reading notices in the nurse's room

- Draw learners' attention to any authentic notices around the walls of the classroom. Elicit the word 'notice' and explain that they give important information.
- Ask the learners to imagine they are waiting outside the nurse's room and point to the notices you have posted (texts 1-5, resource 4). Point to them and say which number they are (Text 1, Text 2, etc.) The texts get increasingly harder. Explain that they should only read the texts you tell them to, as follows:

Pre-entry/beginner - Text 1 only

Entry 1 and 2 – Texts 1, 2, 3 (and 4 if they have enough time)

Entry 3 – all texts

- Give out activity sheet 4b to Entry 1 and 2 learners, and activity sheet 4c to Entry 3 learners. Ask them to read the questions and say whether they need one word, a sentence or a number for each answer.
- Ask learners to stand and find the answers in the notices. When they have finished, they should check with a partner.
- Meanwhile, check the Pre-entry/beginner learners can count from 1-12, know how to read simple times and understand morning, afternoon and evening. Use activity sheet 4a to do this. If you are happy they can do this, then ask them to read text 1 and circle the times in activity sheet 4a, question 4. If not, use the occasion to teach / drill numbers, times or times of day as necessary.
- When your Entry level learners have finished, check through answers as a whole class.

Follow-up / extension activities

- This is another good opportunity to use the authentic texts from your prison. If you are able to take the learners out to the nurse's room or medical unit, you could prepare your own reading activity based on real notices around the walls. If you are unable to take learners out of the classroom, collect some real notices from the medical unit or nurse's room and carry out the activity in class.

- Learners could participate in a role-play. Pair up the learners and give each one a role. One learner is new to the prison and the other must tell her who she can see about healthcare, and how to get an appointment. You could prepare cue cards for the 'new' prisoner, e.g. 'I have a problem with my foot. Who can I see?', 'I want to stop smoking. Who can I see?'
